

I am concerned that Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to air a biased TV program shortly before the election is chilling. Free speech is an ideal, but this smacks of political speech that is being foisted upon the public. If Sinclair aired also a different opinion with a program like "Upriver," then maybe Sinclair would not be scorned for its arrogance. I fear that Big Media is suffocating our precious democracy itself.